Introduction

Internationally known, identity un-known, the artist Banksy has been creating controversy on the walls of the world, both inside and out, for over 25 years. Banksy started out as an illegal graffiti artist in Bristol. Within the space of a decade the artist was self-staging some of the most left-field, anarchic, press worthy, politically motivated, and publicly engaging exhibitions that have ever been seen in the UK and abroad.

The origins of Banksy's popularity without question came from the illegal artworks he produced on the streets. Banksy's distinctive stencil aesthetic combined with satirical and humorous subject matters proved a memorable combination for passers-by.

"The Art of Banksy" exhibition consists of some of the finest privately-owned artworks from the artist's career. The pieces on display were originally purchased by individuals from Banksy himself. The common thread that links these works is that their owners want to share them with the public as opposed to the works gathering dust in their house or storage. They believe they should be seen.

At this point it is worth clarifying, Banksy himself has given no acknowledgement about this exhibition, nor does he endorse or authorise it in any way.

At our new, iconic Regent Street venue, we are excited to be partnering with industry-leading catering and hospitality company Bubble to provide a range of private hire and events packages, uniquely tailored to your group or company.

From an intimate dinner in one of the gallery spaces surrounded by unique works worth millions of pounds, to drinks receptions for up to 400 people in our stunning shop and exhibition, there are countless opportunities and possibilities for us to create a bespoke event that fulfills your needs and is personal to your event.

Details of our offerings and how to get in touch can be found in the following pages.

The Art of Banksy - Regent Street

Just a stone's throw from Piccadilly Circus, on one of the busiest commercial shopping streets in the world, The Art of Banksy - Regent Street boasts an unbeatable location for your event.

Adding to this is the opportunity afforded by our spacious gallery areas and our versatile shop and reception spaces, which lead directly onto Regent Street. Situated over three floors, there are numerous possibilities for how the venue can be set up around your event requirements.

The exhibition itself boasts unique pieces from Banksy's oeuvre, including Valentine's Day Mascara, which appeared on a wall in Margate on Valentine's Day earlier this year. This is the first time Banksy's most recent work is on display outside of Margate.

Alongside this we are proud to have the Flower Thrower triptych, Girl With Balloon in three colour variations, and the unique Mona Lisa.

Wow your guests, colleagues and clients with the opportunity to be treated to a bespoke event surrounded by era-defining artwork.
